Notice of Privacy Practices

This Notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you may gain access to this information.

Waypoint Mental Health Counseling will protect the privacy of your health information and follow all state and federal laws. You have privacy protection under Medicaid and Oklahoma Laws. We are required by applicable federal and state law to maintain the privacy of your health information. We are also required to give you this Notice about our privacy practices, our legal duties and your rights concerning your health information. This letter tells you about your privacy rights and what may be done with your health information by law.

Right to inspect and copy: You have a right to see and gain a copy of the health information in your records. It will not include information needed for civil, criminal, administrative actions and proceedings or psychotherapy notes.

Right to request an amendment: If you feel the health information documented is wrong or incomplete, you may ask your therapist in writing to adjust this information. Your therapist has the right to deny your request if it is not in writing and it does not include a reason, or the information was not created by your therapist, or the information is determined to be correct and complete.

Right to an accounting of disclosures: You have the right to request an "accounting of disclosures," a list of names that your health information has been given to, other than disclosures for the purpose of treatment, payment, or operations.

Right to request restrictions: You have the right to ask your therapist to either not give or partially give your healthcare information used for treatment, payment, or health care operations. Your therapist is not required to comply. However, if agreed, your therapist will follow your request for restriction except when emergency care is necessary.

Right to request confidential communication: You have the right to ask your therapist to discuss with you, your healthcare matters in a certain way or at a certain place. For example, you may ask that your therapist only contact you at work or by email. Your therapist will work to meet all reasonable requests.

Right to a paper copy of this notice: You have a right to ask for a paper copy of this notice. To use these rights, a request for inspecting, copying, and amending, making restrictions, or obtaining an accounting of your health information must be made in writing to Lindsey Logan at 823 N Jim Thorpe BLVD. Prague, OK 74864.

How your health care information may be used and disclosed:

Appointment reminders: I may use or disclose your health information to provide you with appointment reminders (such as voicemail and text messaging).

For Operations: Waypoint Mental Health Counseling can use and give information about you to make sure that services and benefits you get are correct and high quality. We may share health information with business partners. Waypoint Mental Health Counseling partners are licensed professionals who are required by law to ensure privacy and security in handling health care information.

For payment: Information about you may be given to your health plan or health insurance carrier to pay for your services. Your case may be shared with government programs such as worker's compensation; Medicaid, your insurance, or Indian Health Services to better manage your benefits and payments.

For health oversight activities: Your health information may be shared with other agencies for oversight activities required by law. Examples might be audits, inspections, investigations, and licensure.

Legal obligation: Your health information may be given to a law enforcement official, subject to applicable federal and state law regulations, purposes that are required by law or in response to a court order or subpoena. If you are involved in a lawsuit or dispute your information may be given in response to a court or administrative order.

To avert a serious threat to health or safety: If necessary, your information may be released to prevent serious threat to your health and safety of others.

Duty to the Military: If you are a Veteran or member of the armed forces, your health information may be given as required by military command or Veteran administration authority.

As required by law: Your health information may be shared when required to do so by federal, state or local law. State and Federal laws require Waypoint Mental Health Counseling maintain the privacy of your health information and to provide clients this notice of legal duties and privacy practices. If you believe your rights have been violated you may file a complaint by writing to Oklahoma Health Care Authority, 4545 North Lincoln Boulevard, Suite 124, OKC, OK 73120.

Electronic Information and Telehealth Communications

Electronic Information: Waypoint Mental Health Counseling may use an electronic patient notification system. This system is used to notify you of your appointment date/times, appointment reminders, practice alerts, (e.g., rescheduled appointments, unscheduled office closures due to severe weather, illness, etc.). The electronic notifications are sent via text message, email, and voice messages.

Telehealth Communications: Waypoint Mental Health Counseling offers telehealth services which involves the use of technology to deliver services to an individual who is located at a different site other than the mental health provider. Waypoint Mental Health Counseling uses HIPAA Compliant, secure video conferencing platforms to protect the privacy of clients. However, when sessions are conducted using audio only, secure platforms are not available

There are potential risks associated with the use of electronic information and communications. These risks include, but may not be limited to:

- Information transmitted may not be sufficient (e.g., poor resolution of video).
- Delay of session could occur due to deficiencies or failures of the equipment.
- Security protocols could fail, causing a breach of privacy of personal information.

By signing below, I understand that I am responsible for information security on my computer and in my own physical location. I understand that I am responsible for ensuring privacy at my own location. I understand secure platforms are not available when only using audio communication. Therefore, I understand that Waypoint Mental Health Counseling is not responsible for breach of confidentiality during audio sessions.

I have read and understand the information provided above regarding telehealth services and electronic communication. I hereby give my informed consent for the use of telehealth services and electronic communication.
